

AGENT KAMMER

MARKET REPORT

New York City

November 17, 2025

New York City Luxury Market

Market Overview

New York City's luxury real estate market is experiencing a renaissance, with strong demand across all boroughs. Manhattan continues to lead in ultra-luxury sales, while Brooklyn and Queens show impressive growth in the $1M+ segment. The market demonstrates resilience with robust fundamentals and international appeal.

Key Metrics

MANHATTAN MEDIAN $1.175M +12% year-over-year	BROOKLYN MEDIAN $1.1M +7.6% annual growth
LUXURY INVENTORY 4.2 months Supply remains tight	MARKET STATUS Balanced Slight seller advantage

Highest Yielding Neighborhoods

Neighborhood	Yield	Details
TriBeCa	4.5%	Ultra-luxury, celebrity buyers
East Village	4.5%	Strong rental market, nightlife
Chelsea	4.2%	Gallery district, High Line premium
Financial District	4.0%	Waterfront, new developments

Top Luxury Markets

Area	Median Price	Market Details
Hudson Yards	$5.95M	NYC's newest luxury neighborhood
TriBeCa	$4.15M	Celebrity haven, loft living
SoHo	$3.69M	Cast-iron architecture, galleries
Upper East Side	$2.85M	Museum Mile, classic luxury

Growth Projections (2025-2030)

2025-2027

+20-25%

Strong near-term appreciation expected

2027-2030

+28-32%

Cumulative growth through 2030

RENTAL YIELD

3.5-4.5%

Premium rental income potential

MARKET PEAK

Q3 2025

Expected market acceleration

Market Insights

- International buyers driving luxury condo sales in Manhattan
- Brooklyn luxury market outpacing Manhattan growth rates
- New development pipeline creating opportunities in emerging neighborhoods
- Co-op to condo conversions accelerating in prime locations
- Luxury rental market showing record-high rents and occupancy
- Post-pandemic return to office strengthening residential demand