

AGENT KAMMER

MARKET REPORT

California

November 24, 2025

California Luxury Market

Market Overview

California's luxury real estate market remains one of the most dynamic in the nation, with strong fundamentals driven by tech wealth, international investment, and limited coastal inventory. The state's luxury market shows resilience with sustained demand in prime locations despite economic headwinds.

Key Metrics

LUXURY MARKET SIZE $338B Projected US luxury market by 2030	AVERAGE LUXURY HOME $3.2M California median luxury price
YOY GROWTH +8.5% Annual appreciation rate	MARKET TREND Balanced Slight seller advantage

Highest Yielding Counties

County/Area	Yield	Details
Riverside County	9.0%	Strong rental demand, growing tech sector
Santa Clara County	9.0%	Tech hub, limited inventory
San Diego County	5.2%	Coastal premium, lifestyle migration
Orange County	4.8%	Beach communities, stable growth

Top Luxury Markets

Area	Median Price	Market Details
Atherton	$8.33M	Silicon Valley's most exclusive ZIP code
Newport Beach	$5.72M	Coastal luxury, limited supply
Beverly Hills	$4.95M	Entertainment industry hub
La Jolla	$3.85M	San Diego's crown jewel

Growth Projections (2025-2030)

2025-2027

+15-18%

Near-term appreciation in prime markets

2027-2030

+22-28%

Long-term cumulative growth forecast

RENTAL YIELD

5-9%

Annual rental income potential

MARKET RECOVERY

Q2 2025

Expected inventory normalization

Market Insights

- Tech wealth continues to drive demand in Bay Area luxury markets
- Coastal markets showing strongest price resilience and appreciation
- Inland Empire emerging as high-yield investment opportunity
- International buyers returning to California luxury market
- Climate concerns creating opportunities in select micro-markets
- Luxury inventory remains 30% below pre-pandemic levels